• PRONOUNS

Kartik has a balloon.
He has a balloon.

The cat is sleeping.
It is sleeping.

In the examples above, he and it are used in place of Kartik and cat. These words are pronouns.

A pronoun is a word used in place of a noun.

Some pronouns we use every day are: I, me, we, us, you, he, him, she, her, they, it and them.

These pronouns replace the names of people	Used for the names of males	Used for the names of females	Used for the names of both males and females
	he, him	she, her	I, me, you, we, us, they, them

The pronoun it is used for animals and things.

It is also used to talk about time and weather.

• It is 9 o'clock.

• It is so hot today.

Can you identify the singular and plural pronouns in the table above?

Singular pronouns are: I, he, him, she, her, it

Plural pronouns are: we, us, they, them

The pronoun you is used in both singular and plural.

- A singular pronoun takes the place of a singular noun.

Examples –

- Priya lives in Mumbai.
- She lives in Mumbai.
- The flower is red.
- It is red.

- A plural pronoun is used in place of plural pronoun.

Examples –

- Father put biscuits on a plate.
- Father put them on a plate.
- Seema and I are friends.
- We are friends.
