Makar Sankranti is traditionally believed to mark the change of season in India and the commencement of harvesting season. As the festival is dedicated to the Sun God who is regarded as the symbol of divinity and wisdom the festival holds special significance for all. A special assembly was conducted to mark this pious occasion. The students showcased how the harvest festival is celebrated in various parts of India by wearing dresses from different states and also exhibiting various types of food consumed by the people during the festive period. The students also delivered beautiful messages in different languages to further enhance the festive spirit. The teachers also added more colours to the fun and celebrations by singing a Punjabi folk song on Lohri with everyone on the stage dancing to the beats of dhol. The students also sang a vibrant and energetic song on the occasion of Uttarayan celebrations. The assembly concluded with words of appreciation and wisdom to all present from the Headmaster of the Primary Wing Mr. Rakesh Kumar Bhagat.
