“Questions are the engines of intellect, the cerebral machines which convert energy into motion and curiosity to controlled inquiry”

-David Hackett Fischer

A quiz can function throughout a course as an informative feedback device allowing both the instructor and the students to see where they are excelling or need more focus. When such quizzes are conducted to check the comprehension level of languages, it raises the overall bar of learning and assimilating the nuances of those languages.

In order to give a glimpse into this and encourage the students to create more interest in learning French, our school conducted French Quiz for the students of class VII – F on 17.08.19. It was an inter house class activity.

Students competed well with other houses as a team and participated enthusiastically.
