THE CLEVER PARROT

A merchant owned a colourful parrot that could speak many words. The parrot lived in a golden cage near the merchant's shop. Every morning, people stopped to listen to the bird speak politely to customers. One afternoon, while the merchant was away, a cat entered the shop. The frightened parrot fluttered wildly around the cage and accidentally knocked over a bottle of oil. The oil spilled everywhere and made the parrot's feathers sticky and messy.

When the merchant returned and saw the mess, he became angry. He shouted at the parrot, who became silent for many days. The merchant missed hearing the parrot's cheerful voice and felt sorry for his behaviour. A few days later, a bald traveller entered the shop. Seeing the man's shiny head, the parrot suddenly cried out, "Did you also spill oil and lose all your feathers?" Everyone burst into laughter, and the merchant happily forgave the parrot.

16 Why did people stop near the shop?

- A. to buy toys B. to see the merchant C. to hear the parrot speak D. to feed the cat

17 Why did the parrot become silent for many days?

- A. It forgot how to speak. B. It was angry with the merchant.
C. It felt frightened and hurt after being shouted at. D. It became sick after the oil spilled.
