About the Event

Delhi Public School Gandhinagar celebrated the 77th Republic Day of India with great patriotic fervour, enthusiasm, and pride. The event was attended by the esteemed Headmaster, Mr. Rakesh Kumar Bhagat, along with academic coordinators, in-charges, heads of departments, and teachers, creating an atmosphere of respect, unity, and national pride.

The programme commenced with a formal opening address, marking a dignified beginning, followed by a warm eco-friendly green welcome, reflecting the school's commitment to environmental consciousness. The Headmaster unfurled the National Flag, after which the gathering stood in solemn respect for the National Anthem, filling the surroundings with patriotic spirit.

The cultural segment featured a soulful rendition of 'Vande Mataram', which deeply moved the audience and reinforced feelings of love and devotion towards the nation. This was followed by the Headmaster's address, in which he highlighted the importance of unity, responsibility, and selfless service, encouraging all present to continue contributing collectively towards building a strong and progressive India.

The celebration concluded with a photo session, followed by dispersal and sweet distribution, bringing the event to a joyful close and leaving behind cherished memories of pride and patriotic spirit.
